Fit and Form

This side-by-side view of the test field shows the variations in style and fit. The Float-Tech and Mustang inflatable PFDs have a vest-style shape rather than the more standard horseshoe-shaped products. Note the thickness of the Viking PFD behind the tester's neck, compared to the collars of the other products. We tested multiple PFDs from Revere, Viking, and West Marine. The products shown here are nearly identical to their counterparts in fit and style. (The main differences are the inflation types.)
